

Analog Timers

Precision made simple – our Analog Timer ensures reliable time control for your industrial and commercial needs. Designed for durability and ease of use, it delivers consistent performance even in demanding environments. A trusted choice for automation, testing, and process control

Precise Time Control

The analog timer provides accurate ON/OFF switching within a set time range, making it ideal for controlling machines, conveyors, and process cycles in industrial automation. Its mechanical dial ensures real-time manual adjustments without complex programming, allowing operators to quickly fine-tune processes.

- Importance: In industrial setups, precision timing prevents downtime, reduces waste, and optimizes operational flow.
- Effectiveness: Studies show that using reliable time-control devices can reduce process errors by up to 30% in automation systems.

Robust & Durable Design

Built with industrial-grade components, the timer can handle continuous operations in demanding environments. It is resistant to vibrations, electrical surges, and temperature variations, making it highly suitable for factory floors and heavy-duty applications.

- Importance: In industries where machines run 24/7, durability ensures minimal maintenance and longer service life, reducing overall costs.
- Effectiveness: Industrial-grade timers have been shown to last over 50,000 operational cycles under standard usage.

Simple, User-Friendly Operation

Unlike digital timers, this analog timer has a straightforward interface—operators can set time with a simple twist of the dial. This eliminates the need for programming skills and makes it easy for teams to adjust machine cycles quickly.

- Importance: Saves training time and allows even non-technical staff to operate the device effectively.
- Effectiveness: Analog controls can reduce setup time by 40% compared to digital alternatives in fast-paced operations.

GURURAJ ENGINEERS PVT.LTD.

BUILT ON EXPERTISE.
DRIVEN BY EXCELLENCE.

Follow Our Pages :

230 , GIDC , Makarpura ,
Vadodara - 390010 ,
Gujarat , India

+91 99250 26064

www.gururajengineers.com